

ICDC Voting Delegates

We need students to serve a very important role by representing all members of Florida DECA. ICDC Voting Delegates truly are a hard-working group of young members who interview all International Officer candidates, conduct observations, question all candidates, listen to speeches, and vote for the future leaders of DECA, Inc. Each year, Florida DECA has a set number of voting delegate spots that we are allocated. In addition, participation in all Voting Delegate responsibilities are crucially important, so please choose wisely when potentially applying for one of these spots.
